

UC MERCED
Health Sciences
RESEARCH INSTITUTE

University of California
San Francisco

School of Medicine
Fresno Medical Education Program

VALLEY FEVER RESEARCH DAY

Setting Research Priorities for Valley Fever in the San Joaquin Valley

This meeting aims to bring together researchers and clinicians in the San Joaquin Valley to discuss emerging themes and directions for research regarding Valley Fever (Coccidioidomycosis). This might include (but not limited to) research that aims to understand the biology of the illness, its impact on the people of the region, strategies for preventing and early detection of the condition, and issues regarding the clinical management of the disease.

Researchers, public health specialists, or clinicians with an interest in Valley Fever are welcome to discuss your research interests, hear what others are interested in, and participate in determining research directions for the future.

This event is sponsored by UCSF Fresno and UC Merced's Health Sciences Research Institute.

For further information please contact
Erin Gaab (egaab@ucmerced.edu) or visit

hsri.ucmerced.edu/research-day/valley-fever

University of California
San Francisco
UCSF
School of Medicine
Fresno Medical Education Program

Saturday, June 29th

9:30am - 3:00pm

UCSF Fresno Center for Medical
Education and Research

155 N. Fresno Street, Fresno

UC MERCED
Health Sciences
RESEARCH INSTITUTE

UCMERCED